Headteacher's Message

Christmas Update

As we approach the end of term, we are all thinking about the difference in the way things are being done for Christmas this year. As far as a Fearnhill Christmas is concerned, we have tried to include as many traditional aspects as usual. There will be a Christmas lunch, as well as a House Day with activities and competitions between form groups on Friday 18th. This will be a non-uniform day to raise money for local charities. I hope you are able to make the most of the festive period and spend some time with your loved ones; 2021 will bring new challenges but we have a great deal to feel proud of in terms of the way the community has held together through such difficult times.

This Fearnfile brings you updates on the teaching in geography, history and RE this term. Plenty of interesting topics covered! Was the Gunpowder Plot a set-up? You can also hear about our great success in the Virtual District Cross Country trials; some really impressive performances. Our new Sixth Form Prefect Body for 2021 is now in place after the selection process; read about it inside! You can also find out the full details of the Next Steps Day we held on 26th November. The Safer Schools initiative produces a regular newsletter, also included in this edition.

Finally, make sure you tune in for the Fearnhill Virtual Christmas Concert on Thursday 17th December at 6.30pm. There will be a link on the website, as well as being able to tune in via our YouTube channel. There will be some stellar performances, as well as a possible staff item... all designed to get you in the festive mood!

Thank you for all of your support during this challenging term, and I wish you a safe and peaceful Christmas and new year.

Headteacher

What's Been Going in Geography?

This second half term has seen the Year 11 geography students complete their module investigating the UK's evolving human landscapes studying the changes to UK's jobs structure and population. The unit required the students to take an in depth look at the challenges and opportunities facing London and Cornwall.

The Year 10s have made great progress completing their first unit of hazardous environments and are now studying the causes and consequences of global inequality and potential development solutions.

Year 9 students have now completed their study into population and now are investigating plate tectonics gaining an insight into the impacts of volcanoes and earthquakes and considering how we can manage these impacts to reduce death and destruction.

The Year 8 students have segued from global development into the topic of trade and how it continues to change and adapt. The Year 8s are realising the importance of globalisation and the many positive but also negative impacts of it.

Lastly the Year 7 students are studying Food and Farming - trying to consider the very real and challenging question of how we are managing to feed a global population of 8 billion on less land and we will continue to do this in the future when the global population tops 10 billion towards the end of this century!

In History this Term

Year 11 have been so resilient this term and are stonking their way through Germany 1890-1945, with a break for revision for mocks. Those self-isolating are asking for work and fitting in nicely upon return. Next term, we continue with Germany, then complete a revision of Health and the People, our lockdown unit, Conflict and Tension and Germany, in preparation for their upcoming GCSE.

Year 10 tucked in to their GCSE with gusto in July and have continued to work brilliantly on their first GCSE unit- Health and the People. Once this sizeable topic has been completed, we will be moving on to Conflict and Tension, a study of European tensions between 1918-1939.

Year 9's focus this term has been on World War 1, with an investigation into the build up to war, trench life and an assessment on the Battle of the Somme. Year 9 were set a competition about trench life, through the eyes of a serving soldier. They are completing 'Trench Diaries' which tell individual stories of each man's experience (and nurses, women), with creative license as to how they create them.

Year 8 are moving along nicely through the Tudors, examining the reigns of Henry VIII and his descendants- Edward VI, Bloody Mary and Elizabeth I. We are now investigating the Stuarts, including the mystery of the Gunpowder Plot and religious violence of the English Civil War.

Year 7 have started their Secondary School journey by beginning at 1066 and an investigation into Historical Skills. After completing an assessment on 'How Harold Died', we are now exploring the amazing story of castles! Our next stop is to investigate life in the Medieval era.

Ms Fordyce
Teacher of History

RE – What Would you do?

Year 8 have been discussing the different types of ethics and looking at how they link to the Christian religion. This has sparked some very interesting and mature discussions about how they would react to different situations.

What would you do if you could save five people from a train crash or just one?

What about if the one person was from your family or had the cure to cancer?

Year 9 have been looking at issues of life and death, finding out about when life begins and what are the religious views about the ending of life. This again has developed some very thought provoking discussions allowing us to realise that everyone has, at times, very different opinions on the start and end of someone's life.

Year 7 have been looking at the different types of religious symbols and discussing the meaning behind each one, saying what they think the relevance of each symbol is.

KS3 News

This half term Year 7 and 8 students have been introduced to some new behaviour strategies that have been embedded within all their lessons. We have already seen a large improvement in the learning that can take place when these strategies are used. These strategies will help students learn as well as provide skills to aid their conduct throughout school and their lives. Please do discuss at home and ask if you have any questions?

Head of KS3*

Next Steps Day

We were really impressed with the enthusiasm of students from all year groups for their work during Next Steps Day.

The day started with two lessons where students were introduced to the Super Curriculum. Students have really been engaging with this and have already produced some excellent additional work.

For the rest of the day, students embarked on a journey of reflection and aspiration specific to their groups start point. The students really engaged with reflective tasks. For example writing a story of their time at primary school or writing a school report for themselves based on how they were during KS3. Why not give it a try?

The main focus of the day had students focussing on their next steps. For example, students looked in to GCSE options, Post 16 choices, university courses and careers. Students really engaged with this process and we were witness to some fantastic conversations about our students future choices. Students were able to consider how the choices they make today will impact the choices available for them tomorrow. We also had the exciting opportunity to hear about the journey of staff members, ex students and current students which offered excellent insight to different education and career pathways as well as the comforting reassurance that not everything has to fully decided for their futures.

A massive well done to students for their engagement and a huge thank you to the staff and students (both past and current) who shared their stories with us all.

It's Christmas!

Fearnhill staff and students warmly invite you to join us for our first ever virtual Christmas Concert. As I'm sure you are all aware, performing to a live audience is still not an option at the moment. However, our students have still been working hard in the background practicing and rehearsing in music and drama and are proud to present this virtual concert for you all to enjoy.

The concert will premiere on the Fearnhill Live YouTube channel from 6:30pm on Thursday 17th December. If you haven't already, subscribing to the channel will give you alerts and direct you to the link on the day. Alternatively, there will be a link that appears on the Fearnhill School website on Thursday evening which will take you to the YouTube page. The concert will remain on YouTube for a while so if you are unable to watch it on the night, be sure to catch up when you can.

There are a variety of acts from across the year groups and one or two staff appearances as well! Some students are debuting pieces that they are working on that contribute towards their GCSE or A-level courses, whilst some students bring you Christmas numbers to get you in the festive mood.

We hope you enjoy the concert and we look forward to being able to perform live to you again as soon as it is safe.

Thanks

During the last few weeks, donations including toys, toiletries and food items have been collected by the Salvation Army to create Christmas parcels for local individuals and families in crisis. The Christmas items were delivered by Mrs Burgess today to families in plenty of time for them to enjoy over the festive season.

The Salvation Army is extremely grateful to everyone who donated and asked us to pass on their thanks and to wish everyone a merry Christmas!

Ms Fordyce also organised a collection of unwanted winter clothing from staff and parents for The Salvation Army to distribute to the homeless and needy. We had an amazing collection and Ms Fordyce would like to thank everyone who donated.

#STOPKNIFECRIME

Welcome from the Herts Police Gangs & Schools Team. We are a dedicated team that work with local Officers and partners to prevent youth related crime. We conduct a range of prevention and engagement work to raise awareness of knife crime, gang & criminal exploitation to keep you safe.

Get Safe Online

With new phones and other devices allowing access to the internet on so many Christmas wish lists we thought this would be a good time to remind everyone about how to stay safe online.

Love it or hate it, chances are your child will be online gaming this Christmas. If you're like most parents, you'll have children who play games online, whether on a tablet, mobile, computer or console.

In most cases, online gaming is fun, social and harm-free. But we need to be realistic, and parents are right to be concerned about a world they may not be familiar with. The risks range from downloading a computer virus, to bullying or even being targeted by a predator with sinister motives.

As parents, it's impossible to know what your children are doing all of the time, particularly when it comes to online gaming. In the same way you would warn your kids about the risks of riding a bike or crossing a road, it's important to educate them to online security dangers early on so you can feel comfortable knowing they are playing safely and know when to alert someone to anything suspicious.

Top Tips for Safe Online Gaming

- Have an open and honest talk with your kids about online gaming and the risks involved.
- Tell them never to reveal private information like their real name, email address, home address, telephone numbers, family members, financial details or school they go to.
- Explain that not everybody is who they seem or claim to be, and their motives may be suspicious.
- Tell them not to respond to bullying or other abuse, and to tell you straight away if it happens.
- Tell them to tell you straight away if someone makes inappropriate suggestions or makes them feel uncomfortable online.

- Join in with their gaming sometimes, to get an idea of the games and who they're connecting with.
- Set and monitor limits for the amount of daily or weekly time your kids spend online gaming.
- Check age ratings of games to ensure your kids aren't accessing inappropriate content.
- Never give your child your payment card details as extras can be very costly.

Visit www.getsafeonline.org/safeguarding-children and click on your child's age group to find out more.

Cyberbullying

What is Cyberbullying and online Harassment?

- Cyberbullying is any form of bullying which takes place online.
- This can be done over smartphones, tablets, online gaming, chat rooms, social media and more.
- Online harassment is the act of sending offensive, rude and insulting messages and being abusive.
- If someone purposefully keeps sending you offensive messages that make you feel scared, it could be illegal.

Cyberbullying is NOT ACCEPTABLE

- Bullying someone whether online or offline is wrong.
- It can badly affect their mental health.
- Harassing someone and/or sending malicious or threatening messages to someone repeatedly is ILLEGAL.
- If you are found to be cyberbullying someone, there could be criminal consequences.

What to do if you are being cyberbullied

If someone is bullying you, here is what you can do to put a stop to it....get SMART.

Screenshot any nasty messages.

My privacy settings.

Avoid talking to them any further.

Report the incident on whatever site you are using.

Talk to someone (parent, carer, teacher, friend or the police if necessary).

How to cope with the effects of Cyberbullying

- You must not blame yourself. No one deserves to be treated cruelly by anyone.
- It can make you feel very upset, alone and like no one will understand or help you.
- REMEMBER you are not alone and there are lots of people who can help you. Make sure you tell someone and do not try to deal with this on your own.
- For confidential help and advice: NSPCC nspcc.org.uk or Bullying UK bullying.co.uk

When to tell the Police

- If you are ever threatened with physical harm, being repeatedly harassed, being sent malicious messages.
- If it's not an immediate emergency, phone 101 or use our online webchat service.
- If it is an immediate emergency phone 999.

Bike Marking

Hertfordshire is a safe place with some of the lowest crime levels in the country. Despite this more than 1,000 bicycles are reported stolen every year and of those recovered, most are auctioned simply because there's no way of knowing who the owners are. Failure to secure or register them correctly makes them an easy target for thieves.

Hertfordshire Constabulary has joined the National BikeRegister Scheme (the UK's national cycle database and the leading security marking and registration initiative), proven to reduce cycle theft and identify stolen bikes.

To reduce the chances of becoming a victim of cycle theft, we highly recommend the use of a Secured by Design BikeRegister marking kit and the The BikeRegister APP, is a convenient way for police officers to search the BikeRegister database for ownership details of recovered bikes and gives officers access to vital information in real-time.

Hertfordshire Constabulary holds regular bike marking events around the county. Bike marking is provided FREE to members of the public and is used to help support road safety. If you own a bike, you are strongly recommended to ensure the bike is registered at any advertised event or you may register the bike yourself at:

www.bikeregister.com/

Registering on BikeRegister is a vital step in the fight against bike theft, and means you can be reunited with your bikes in the event of them being stolen.
